

Exclusively by  InCharge Energy

Multi-brand EV charger maintenance & repair plans.

Designed to give you confidence in every charge.

One of the promises of electric vehicles is fewer maintenance headaches. If you're operating chargers from multiple manufacturers or your chargers are past warranty, you may have found that's not always the case. It might not always be clear who to call when an unexpected issue arises, or it may be difficult to streamline maintenance and repair across chargers. That's why we created InService™, a streamlined single service program for all your charger maintenance and repair needs - across charger manufacturers. With highly trained in-house service technicians located across the country and flexible plan options to provide just the level of service your organization or charging location needs; we can help you set up a best-in-class service and support plan to keep your EV chargers up and running.

InService provides operational confidence in everyday charging, for every charger.
